September

During the month of September, we welcomed a new group of friends! We took the time to get to know each child and encourage the building of new relationships with the children. We've tried to meet all our families and if you haven't seen us yet, we will try to say hi soon. In September, we discussed classroom expectations, such as, walking in line, practicing table manners, using our words with friends, staying safe in our room, and learning how to use the materials that we have. We also began learning how to label our emotions and recognize the cues for what they may look like. We hope that you begin seeing more vocalization of needs and feelings and independence at home as we continue to work on this! We have enjoyed the month of September with them.

What is new in October?

During the month of October, we will begin implementing project approach curriculum. This approach allows the children to guide us in what they want to learn. We follow the children's interest and do in depth studies on one topic for extended periods of time. We will create a learning web for the topic, do classroom projects, have activities to investigate, and do a great amount of research. By the time were finished with a study, your child will be an expert in that topic!

We've observed the children and so far, they seem to have quite the interest in animals. We will decide what project we will begin that is more specific to a group of animals. We will send more information home soon when we choose our topic of study!

Room 12 Reminders:

-Our friends must bring a sheet, blanket, and rest item at the beginning of each week. Bookbags go home on the last day of the week to be washed.

-A spare change of clothes should be kept in your child's bag, at all times. Please be mindful that the clothes are seasonally appropriate and the correct size.

-Please keep an eye on Procure as we usually send important classroom information out electronically in the app.

-We would like to have all our proud family pages in as soon as you can.
